

'What I can tell you is that as a former reporter, I see stories almost every day that should be reported on, particularly here at Stanford and in East Palo Alto, that aren't getting the attention they deserve.'